

CROYDON MAN ESCAPES INJURY IN BUS-TRAILER-TRUCK CRASH IN WHICH 1 MAN WAS KILLED, 11 OTHERS HURT

Two Greyhound Buses Smash Into Jack-Knifed Trailer-Truck Near Oxford — Francis D. Friel Was Driver of One of the Buses — Some Are Critically Hurt

By International News Service
OXFORD, Dec. 31.—One man was killed and 11 other persons were hurt when two Greyhound buses smashed into a jack-knifed trailer-truck near Oxford at 3.30 this morning.

State Police said the moving van skidded on a patch of ice on the Baltimore Pike and the trailer swung out across the highway. Seconds later the buses, one following the other, slid into the disabled truck.

Police at Avondale sub-station identified the dead man as William H. Slack, of Box 262, Horsham, Pa., a sailor. His wife, Mary, was reported in critical condition at Chester County Hospital, in West Chester, with internal injuries.

Also reported in critical condition at Chester County Hospital was John Fox, of Fort Williams, Portland, Me.

Police identified the truck driver as Charles Grossman, 32, of Baltimore. He and the second bus driver, Francis L. Friel, of 32 Emily avenue, R. D. 1, Croydon, Pa., were not injured.

The driver of the first bus, E. J. Hallam, Jr., of Philadelphia, suffered a fractured pelvis and was taken to University Hospital in Philadelphia.

The second bus sideswiped the first bus, plowed through the debris and then careened into a field.

"RUNAWAY" TRAILER IS CAUSE OF $2500 FIRE

Rolls Into Another Parked Truck at States' Property In Bensalem

VEHICLES DAMAGED

A runaway trailer which rolled into another parked truck at the property of William States, Hulmeville road, Bensalem township, this morning at 7.40, caused a fire with loss estimated at $2500.

When the "runaway" hit a nearby truck fire resulted, and gasoline splattering onto other trucks in the huge parking lot, ignited other vehicles. The one most greatly damaged is a pick-up truck.

Firemen Cornwells Co., No. 1, Union Co., Cornwells Heights; and Eddington Company, remained at the scene about 1 1/2 hours. They used booster tanks and one supply tank to fight the blaze.

Mr. States is engaged in the trucking business, and at his business center in Bensalem parks a large number of trucks and trailers.

LIBRARY CLOSED TONIGHT

The Bristol Free Library will not be open tonight but will be open today from four until six o'clock.

THE BIG YEAR!

Tomorrow starts a new year. Quite aside from the national elections next fall, this will be one of the most important years in American history.

Many key questions involving the whole future of the American people will be decided within the next few months.

Biggest single question is inflation.

It won't be "licked" in the next twelve months—the damage done by fifteen years of reckless finances can't be cleaned up so quickly. It will take several years of belt-tightening and hard work to "buy" our way out of the hole where inflation has led us.

But the importance of the coming months in the fight against inflation lies in the fact that we now must decide whether we are going to fight inflation at all—or simply ride along with it until it "busts."

We are at the critical point. Our national situation might be compared with a fisherman who has played his game to the point where all the line has run out from his reel. Can we retrieve the line, and bring inflation to gaff? If inflation goes any farther, the line will break and we will never have another chance to avoid the worst crack-up in history.

A financial collapse resulting from failure to stop inflation would wreck virtually all business in the country. It would impoverish the whole American people. It would throw everybody on relief—and the government would have nothing left with which to pay public assistance.

When you read propaganda about Russian "aggression" and the need for fighting it with big armies and the Marshall plan, don't forget this: Stalin is gambling, and so is Great Britain, on one factor. They have made no secret about it. They have tipped their hands. What they are gambling on is their expectation that the United States won't be able to pull out of the inflationary spiral, won't be able to avoid depression and chaos which will destroy us as a world power and as their rival.

The way to beat their game is to keep our own solvency.

Over-expenditures for military preparations, and over-generosity in the Marshall Plan, by further undermining our own finances, simply speed the day when our Treasury will bust, and when our enemies won't have anything to do but pick up the pieces.

BOY SCOUTS SHOW MEMBERSHIP BOOSTS

Membership Now Is Largest In History of County Council

ANNOUNCE EVENTS

Raymond W. Hoxworth, scout executive of the Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces that the total membership is the largest in the history of the Council for its 20 years. The breakdown of membership is as follows:

Boy Scouts, 1097; 137 Senior Scouts and 521 Cub Scouts or a grand total of 1755 boys registered in the local Council.

The total number of units in the Council is eighty-one. An increase of 11 units over the final figures for 1946. It was also announced that the Bucks County Council is one of the councils in Region III which showed an increase in membership in all three phases of scouting. The council increases over the previous year are as follows: Boy Scouts, 38; Senior Scouts, and 33 Cub Scouts over 1946.

Nineteen units of the councils received the Council Presidents Award for an increase in membership during the past three months. It was through the efforts of these units that it was possible for the Council to exceed its 1946 membership figures.

Some of the coming events for the new year are as follows: The annual council meeting and dinner on January 24th in Doylestown and the annual council court of honor during Boy Scout Week in February at the Court House in Doylestown.

MIDNIGHT TO USHER IN THE BABY DERBY

Annual Event Catches Interest of All Residents of The Area

MANY PRIZES READY

Once again, as the stroke of midnight ushers in a new year, the time will also indicate the beginning of an annual event in Bristol and surrounding communities which each year gets a live-rating among important local events.

For as the present year passes into history the Bristol Courier 1948 Baby Derby gets underway. It is made possible annually by the Courier and a group of co-operating businessmen, who, although they know nothing except the starting time for the contest, are planning to pleasantly surprise the winner.

The important question now is, "Who will be the first baby to be born of parents living in this area in 1948?"

That baby, provided he is officially entered in the Bristol Courier Baby Derby, will be showered with an array of lovely gifts from the business establishments who have made the Derby possible.

Headlining the gifts will be a savings account passbook made out to the winner with a deposit of ten dollars to start it off. This will be the gift of Richard W. Fechtenburg, well known Eddington realtor.

THIEVES TAKE MEAT FROM WILEY MARKET

Neighbor Watches as Trio of Men Cart Goods to A Waiting Vehicle

NOTIFIES THE OWNER

ANDALUSIA, Dec. 31.—Partially thwarted in a robbery attempt, a trio of thieves made off with a much smaller quantity of meat and poultry than they anticipated, at James Wiley's meat market, here, early this morning.

The fact that a neighbor's attention was drawn to the activity of the three shortly before 4.30 is credited with saving $200 worth or more of meat which the robbers had taken from the walk-in refrigerator and placed on the floor of a rear room, ready for a get-away.

Wiley's telephone at his home rang shortly before 4.30, and a family residing near the meat market, located on Bristol Pike, informed him that his store was being robbed. As Wiley prepared to go to the store, his daughter, Mary, telephoned the store. The receiver at the market was lifted from its hook, but no one answered. Mr. and Mrs. Wiley, their daughters, Mary and Elaine, hurried to the place of business, but found that the thieves had disappeared.

DEVELOPING PLAN TO REDUCE NUMBER OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS

Bucks County Board of School Directors Considers 12 Areas

"THE MERGER ACT" Must Redistrict As Result of Act 361 Recently Passed

In the next five months the Bucks County Board of School Directors will devote itself to developing a plan for reducing Bucks County's 54 school districts to 12 or less administrative school district areas, Walter S. Miller, president of the county board, announced today.

County Superintendent Charles H. Boehm has been assembling data for the past five years and has made preliminary studies of various plans.

The county board will not only consider recommendations made by local school boards but those submitted by various county civic, veterans, farmer and industrial groups.

The board must redistrict the county as a result of Act 361 of the past session of the Legislature, better known as "The Merger Act," one of the most important acts passed by the Legislature.

As a result of this act the State Council of Education has set 1,000 pupils as the desirable administrative unit. The Bucks County board has until July 1 to rearrange the county's districts to meet that standard.

At the present time all school districts in Bucks County, excepting Bristol Township, have less than 1,000 pupils.

Superintendent Boehm has outlined four plans for reducing the number of administrative districts. On the basis of real estate assessment, pupil enrollment and the population in 1940, the first plan would set the maximum number of districts at 12. Other plans are worked out for eight, six and three districts.

The board will consider the advantages and disadvantages of each, and must submit the plan it adopts to the voters after this coming July. This plan, or others, must be submitted periodically after that until new units of administration are approved by the voters.

By the first plan the county would be divided into the following areas: Tohickon Valley, Pottsville, Grandview, Deep Run Valley, Central Bucks, Council Rock, John Fitch, Pennsbury, Playwicky, Plexiglass-Patapar, Riverport and Poquessing Valley.

Under the 12-area plan, Morrisville, Yardley, Falls Township and

A SAFETY SOLUTION

As another year begins, the nation is no nearer a solution to the terrible toll of death taken by traffic. There is no particular reason to believe that the situation in 1948 will be better than it has been. Certainly men will struggle to find a solution, but their efforts seem foredoomed to failure.

The toll of death on the highways cannot be blamed on the automobile. Manufacturers make little effort now to put more speed in cars. They know they are fast enough for the highways and spend their time improving performance and comfort.

Solution probably lies in education of the future driver. Safety on highways should be a topic for the child when he enters school and he should be taught safety all the way through. He should be taught the true meaning of horsepower and the mathematics pertaining to speed and to force. He should be taught that good driving is as much to be sought as good grades in English.

Then after 15 years this nation probably can look at its highway death figures and see some improvement.

MILITARY PAY

Secretary of Defense Forrestal has appointed a civilian advisory commission to make a thorough study of pay raises for the military services. The question of pay may have a great deal to do with the caliber and effectiveness of the nation's armed forces in the perilous years ahead.

If defenses in the atomic age, as is now widely predicted, will be manned by fewer but more highly trained men, present pay—although it would sound fantastic to the cavalryman and far of a few decades ago—may be upped still higher.

A special armed forces committee also named by Mr. Forrestal has been exploring the military pay question for the last six months. But in fact this is a question for Congress, not for commissions of officers or civilians appointed by a cabinet officer, who is himself an appointee.

Although the nation's military pay scale is the highest in the world, the incomes of servicemen are not princely when compared to the salaries of jobs in business or industry requiring equal capabilities and carrying equal responsibility.

The base pay of an apprentice seaman or a private starts at $900 a year—with food, clothing, etc., supplied, of course—the highest enlisted pay is approximately $4,000, and five-star generals and admirals—who occupy the stratosphere of military ranks—make less than $16,000 a year.

It is true that there are rewards. There are tax considerations and various privileges that increase with higher rank, there is security, and above all there is honor. But with it there goes responsibility, responsibility that is almost crushing in time of war. Certainly a MacArthur or a Nimitz would not seek the burden of his post for the sake of money alone.

"HARDY PERENNIAL"

The Big Year!

Those are some of the reasons why the coming decisions on inflation, on militarization, on wasting time with price-controls and wage-freezes and rationing, and on how far to go with the Marshall Plan, are so terrifically important.

The national election is still eleven months off. It is a full year before the management now in charge at Washington can be changed by the voters.

It is a national calamity that President Truman has persisted in playing politics with these problems instead of giving Congress a voice, as the Constitution provides, in helping solve them; and instead of cooperating, as he once promised, with the Republican majorities there.

The President successfully blocked the Republican approach to the fight on inflation, which was overwhelmingly supported by the rest of Congress. This approach consisted of two steps: first, sharp retrenchment in government spending, and second, big reductions in taxes.

The President sidetracked the first and vetoed the second; as he said, to "prevent inflation."

Did his policy have that effect? Don't be silly! Inflation is far worse today than when he set out to "prevent" it.

It will continue to be the worst danger the American people ever faced, up until the time it is really brought under control; and that can be done, in the long run, only by the two remedies which Congress offered and which the President blocked—retrenchment in government spending plus large reductions in Federal taxes.

The stage is set for spectacular battles. The President, with his two million bureaucrats fighting for their jobs and their powers over the American people, are on one side—the Republican leaders in Congress on the other. Complicating the situation are many factors—lack of harmony on both sides of the fence; the labor problem; unrest over rising prices; the presence of various ambitious minority groups and spokesmen.

Don't imagine that you are merely a spectator to these battles. It is your money, your job, your home and your future which are involved. Next November, you will be called upon to cast a vote which will vindicate one side or the other in this conflict.

But that's all the more reason for following coming events closely. Make up your mind to try to understand what the fight is about—and make up your mind also not to be taken in by the false propaganda which is flooding the country.

In every part of the outside world, people are in slavery to governments which grew into dictatorships on precisely the same sort of policies and promises being offered at Washington. None of the promises were kept, and as for the policies, they have been ruinous.

Don't let that happen here in 1948!

Developing Plan To Reduce Number of School Districts

Lower Makefield Township would be grouped into the Pennsbury Area. There are now 2,241 pupils enrolled in schools in the area which has real estate assessments of $8,938,222 and a population in 1940 of 11,719. Plans would eventually call for a new senior high school for the area.

Under the same plan Doylestown, Buckingham, New Hope and Solebury Township would be grouped into the Central Bucks Area. Assessments in this area now total $13,077,190, with 2,825 pupils enrolled from a 1940 population of 16,520.

Bristol Township would comprise the Plexiglass-Patapar Area. It has assessments of $5,265,424, 1,770 pupils enrolled and a 1940 population of 5,857.

Bristol Borough also would constitute an area, the Riverport Area. Its assessments are placed at $6,643,321. There are 1,459 pupils enrolled and the population in 1940 was 11,895.

Bensalem Township would be known as the Poquessing Valley Area with assessments of $6,198,133, 1,319 pupils and 1940 population of 7,276.

The Langhorne-Middletown, or Playwick Area, would have assessments of $4,949,408, 1,139 pupils and had a population of 6,449.

Newtown and Northampton are already united in Council Rock Area which would be retained under the 12-area plan.

To reduce the number of areas still further the 8-area plan would consolidate Bristol and Bristol Township into the Riverport-Plexiglass Area with eventual plans to call for a single senior high school and two junior highs.

Langhorne-Middletown and Bensalem Township would be united in the Poquessing-Playwick Area with two junior high schools and a single senior high school to be located a little south of Hulmeville.

Northampton, Newtown and Warminster-Upper Southampton would come under the Council Rock-John Fitch Area. There would probably be a new senior high school with the existing high schools at Newtown and Southampton used as junior highs.

The proposed make-up of the Pennsbury and Central Bucks areas would remain the same in the second plan.

Nor would the Pennsbury Area be affected by a third plan to have only six areas for the county.

The Central Bucks Area under the latter plan would also take in the Bridgeton-Nockamixon area.

The six-area plan would, however, set up a special area for the bulk of the county's industrial population. This would include Bristol Borough, Bristol Township and Bensalem Township.

Belief that eventually 13th and 14th grades will become a part of the public school system has led to formulation of a fourth plan which would divide the county into three areas—the northern area to include all districts north of New Britain Township; the central area to include all districts south of Hilltown, Redminister and Tinicum Townships and north of Lower Southampton, Middletown and Lower Makefield Townships, and a southern area including all districts south of Upper Southampton, Northampton and Upper Makefield Townships.

Advantages listed for the 12-area plan are: 1. It is most likely to meet the acceptance of the voters. 2. It gives the most local control. 3. It would cause the least disturbance to the present school system.

Its disadvantages are: 1. Of all the plans it offers the least possibility for extending vocational education. 2. It is very unlikely to provide for the addition of 13th and 14th grades. 3. It has the highest cost per taxpayer. 4. Because the areas are smaller than in the other plans, financing of new senior high schools would be more difficult. 5. It offers the least possibility of extending educational services.

The three-area plan is looked upon as the least likely to be accepted by voters at this time but as the one which would eventually give the greatest cut in the cost of school systems to taxpayers.

The plan to merge school districts has already run into opposition in New Hope where overcrowding has brought the merger plans to a head. At a public meeting two weeks ago, a majority of those present voted against the formation of a larger district.

Morrisville high school students will begin taking a census of the borough's population next week. This will provide more up to date figures than the 1940 census figures on which the proposed merger plans are based.

A SAFETY SOLUTION

As another year begins, the nation is no nearer a solution to the terrible toll of death taken by traffic. There is no particular reason to believe that the situation in 1948 will be better than it has been. Certainly men will struggle to find a solution, but their efforts seem foredoomed to failure.

The toll of death on the highways cannot be blamed on the automobile. Manufacturers make little effort now to put more speed in cars. They know they are fast enough for the highways and spend their time improving performance and comfort.

Solution probably lies in education of the future driver. Safety on highways should be a topic for the child when he enters school and he should be taught safety all the way through. He should be taught the true meaning of horsepower and the mathematics pertaining to speed and to force. He should be taught that good driving is as much to be sought as good grades in English.

Then after 15 years this nation probably can look at its highway death figures and see some improvement.

MILITARY PAY

Secretary of Defense Forrestal has appointed a civilian advisory commission to make a thorough study of pay raises for the military services. The question of pay may have a great deal to do with the caliber and effectiveness of the nation's armed forces in the perilous years ahead.

If defenses in the atomic age, as is now widely predicted, will be manned by fewer but more highly trained men, present pay—although it would sound fantastic to the cavalryman and tar of a few decades ago—may be upped still higher.

A special armed forces committee also named by Mr. Forrestal has been exploring the military pay question for the last six months. But in fact this is a question for Congress, not for commissions of officers or civilians appointed by a cabinet officer, who is himself an appointee.

Although the nation's military pay scale is the highest in the world, the incomes of servicemen are not princely when compared to the salaries of jobs in business or industry requiring equal capabilities and carrying equal responsibility.

The base pay of an apprentice seaman or a private starts at $900 a year—with food, clothing, etc., supplied, of course—the highest enlisted pay is approximately $4,000, and five-star generals and admirals—who occupy the stratosphere of military ranks—make less than $16,000 a year.

It is true that there are rewards. There are tax considerations and various privileges that increase with higher rank, there is security, and above all there is honor. But with it there goes responsibility, responsibility that is almost crushing in time of war. Certainly a MacArthur or a Nimitz would not seek the burden of his post for the sake of money alone.

The Big Year!

Those are some of the reasons why the coming decisions on inflation, on militarization, on wasting time with price-controls and wage-freezes and rationing, and on how far to go with the Marshall Plan, are so terrifically important.

The national election is still eleven months off. It is a full year before the management now in charge at Washington can be changed by the voters.

It is a national calamity that President Truman has persisted in playing politics with these problems instead of giving Congress a voice, as the Constitution provides, in helping solve them; and instead of cooperating, as he once promised, with the Republican majorities there.

The President successfully blocked the Republican approach to the fight on inflation, which was overwhelmingly supported by the rest of Congress. This approach consisted of two steps: first, sharp retrenchment in government spending, and second, big reductions in taxes.

The President sidetracked the first and vetoed the second; as he said, to "prevent inflation."

Did his policy have that effect? Don't be silly! Inflation is far worse today than when he set out to "prevent" it.

It will continue to be the worst danger the American people ever faced, up until the time it is really brought under control; and that can be done, in the long run, only by the two remedies which Congress offered and which the President blocked—retrenchment in government spending plus large reductions in Federal taxes.

The stage is set for spectacular battles. The President, with his two million bureaucrats fighting for their jobs and their powers over the American people, are on one side—the Republican leaders in Congress on the other. Complicating the situation are many factors—lack of harmony on both sides of the fence; the labor problem; unrest over rising prices; the presence of various ambitious minority groups and spokesmen.

Don't imagine that you are merely a spectator to these battles. It is your money, your job, your home and your future which are involved. Next November, you will be called upon to cast a vote which will vindicate one side or the other in this conflict.

But that's all the more reason for following coming events closely. Make up your mind to try to understand what the fight is about—and make up your mind also not to be taken in by the false propaganda which is flooding the country.

In every part of the outside world, people are in slavery to governments which grew into dictatorships on precisely the same sort of policies and promises being offered at Washington. None of the promises were kept, and as for the policies, they have been ruinous.

Don't let that happen here in 1948!

Developing Plan To Reduce Number of School Districts

Lower Makefield Township would be grouped into the Pennsbury Area. There are now 2,211 pupils enrolled in schools in the area which has real estate assessments of $8,938,222 and a population in 1940 of 11,719. Plans would eventually call for a new senior high school for the area.

Under the same plan Doylestown, Buckingham, New Hope and Solebury Township would be grouped into the Central Bucks Area. Assessments in this area now total $13,077,190, with 2,825 pupils enrolled from a 1940 population of 16,520.

Bristol Township would comprise the Plexiglass-Patapar Area. It has assessments of $5,265,424, 1,770 pupils enrolled and a 1940 population of 5,857.

Bristol Borough also would constitute an area, the Riverport Area. Its assessments are placed at $6,613,321. There are 1,459 pupils enrolled and the population in 1940 was 11,895.

known as the Poquessing Valley Area with assessments of $6,198,133, 1,319 pupils and 1940 population of 7,276.

The Langhorne-Middletown, or Playwick Area, would have assessments of $4,949,408, 1,139 pupils and had a population of 6,449.

Newtown and Northampton are already united in Council Rock Area which would be retained under the 12-area plan.

To reduce the number of areas still further the 8-area plan would consolidate Bristol and Bristol Township into the Riverport-Plexiglass Area with eventual plans to call for a single senior high school and two junior highs.

Langhorne-Middletown and Bensalem Township would be united in the Poquessing-Playwick Area, with two junior high schools and a single senior high school to be located a little south of Hulmeville.

Northampton, Newtown and Warminster-Upper Southampton would come under the Council Rock-John Fitch Area. There would probably be a new senior high school with the existing high schools at Newtown and Southampton used as junior highs.

The proposed make-up of the Pennsbury and Central Bucks areas would remain the same in the second plan.

Nor would the Pennsbury Area be affected by a third plan to have only six areas for the county.

The Central Bucks Area under the latter plan would also take in the Bridgeton-Nockamixon area.

The six-area plan would, however, set up a special area for the bulk of the county's industrial population. This would include Bristol Borough, Bristol Township and Bensalem Township.

Belief that eventually 13th and 14th grades will become a part of the public school system has led to formulation of a fourth plan which would divide the county into three areas—the northern area to include all districts north of New Britain Township; the central area to include all districts south of Hilltown, Bedminster and Tinticum Townships and north of Lower Southampton, Middletown and Lower Makefield Townships; and a southern area including all districts south of Upper Southampton, Northampton and Upper Makefield Townships.

Advantages listed for the 12-area plan are: 1. It is most likely to meet the acceptance of the voters. 2. It gives the most local control. 3. It would cause the least disturbance to the present school system.

Its disadvantages are: 1. Of all the plans it offers the least possibility for extending vocational education. 2. It is very unlikely to provide for the addition of 13th and 14th grades. 3. It has the highest cost per taxpayer. 4. Because the areas are smaller than in the other plans, financing of new senior high schools would be more difficult. 5. It offers the least possibility of extending educational services.

The three-area plan is looked upon as the least likely to be accepted by voters at this time but as the one which would eventually give the greatest cut in the cost of school systems to taxpayers.

The plan to merge school districts has already run into opposition in New Hope where overcrowding has brought the merger plans to a head. At a public meeting two weeks ago, a majority of those present voted against the formation of a larger district.

Morrisville high school students will begin taking a census of the borough's population next week. This will provide more up to date figures than the 1940 census figures on which the proposed merger plans are based.

A Summary of The News

Recognition of the Communist "Free Greek" regime would be contrary to the United Nations Charter and "would have serious implications," Under-Secretary of State Lovett said. This fear was felt among United Nations delegations, which looked for Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria to accord at least belligerent rights to the junta. Athens reported that a guerrilla stronghold near Konitsa had been smashed and that reinforcements had entered the besieged city.

Two bombs thrown by a Zionist terrorist group in Haifa killed six Arabs and started a battle in which 41 Jews were slain and 42 Arabs and 48 Jews wounded.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

The home of Neal de Groot, at Revere, was the scene of an unusually merry Christmas because it was in the form of reunion of Mr. de Groot and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Marinus Van Emerick and their four small children, who arrived in this country from Holland on the S. S. Edam following a very stormy voyage which lasted two weeks.

The children are Gerdula, Peter, Hendricks and Rita, who, with their parents, arrived here just in time for the Christmas holidays. The Van Emerick family passed through a number of lean and hungry years in Holland, and upon their arrival at Revere, members of the family expressed amazement upon the large amount of wealth and the abundance of food in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Emerick and children came to remain in this country permanently. Mr. de Groot had an apartment furnished in his building upon their arrival here.

Friends at Ivyland have received Christmas greetings from Mrs. John Lindstrom, who is in Regensburg, Germany, where her husband is in the service.

In part Mrs. Lindstrom wrote: "We have plenty of food and heat. You will never realize how wonderful America is until you can visualize these people, dirty, hungry and disease laden and who steal anything, not from choice, but for their children."

Thieves Take Meat From Wiley Market

On the floor of the rear room was approximately $200 worth of hams, shoulders of pork, beef, veal, etc., which had been taken from the refrigerator. The thieves had, however, made off with six to twelve chickens, some loins of pork, and some made-up orders which included a variety of meats.

The type of automobile used by the thieves is not known, it is stated, the neighbor advising that the lights of the car only were seen, and the three men passing between the vehicle and the Wiley store as they loaded their loot.

Entrance had been gained by removing a panel from the rear door of the store property. The Wiley place has been entered several times, the last about a year ago.

Here and There In Bucks County Towns

The home of Neal de Groot, at Revere, was the scene of an unusually merry Christmas because it was in the form of reunion of Mr. de Groot and brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Marinus Van Emerick and their four small children, who arrived in this country from Holland on the S. S. Edam following a very stormy voyage which lasted two weeks.

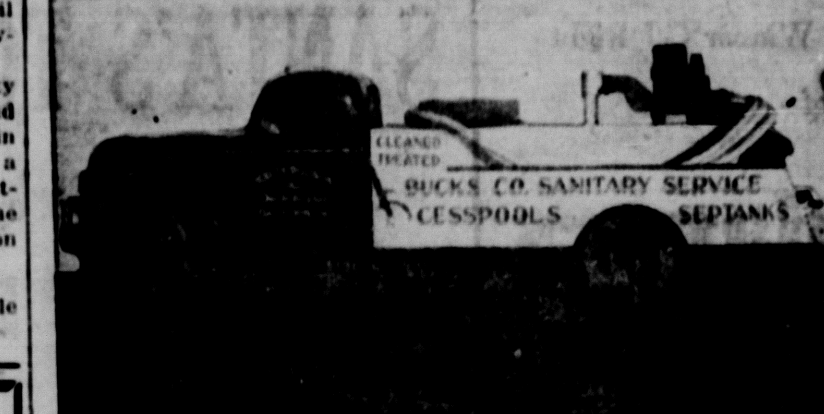

The children are Gerdula, Peter, Hendricks and Rita, who, with their parents, arrived here just in time for the Christmas holidays. The Van Emerick family passed through a number of lean and hungry years in Holland, and upon their arrival at Revere, members of the family expressed amazement upon the large amount of wealth and the abundance of food in this country.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Emerick and children came to remain in this country permanently. Mr. de Groot had an apartment furnished in his building upon their arrival here.

Friends at Ivyland have received Christmas greetings from Mrs. John Lindstrom, who is in Regensburg, Germany, where her husband is in the service.

In part Mrs. Lindstrom wrote: "We have plenty of food and heat. You will never realize how wonderful America is until you can visualize these people, dirty, hungry and disease laden and who steal anything, not from choice, but for their children."

Goodbye BRAKE ROBBERS

with PERMAFUSE BONDED BRAKES

Brake Robbers have been stealing half of your brake lining, but this can't happen to you if your car or truck brake linings are bonded with PERMAFUSE, the Modern Method of Relining Brakes which doubles the life of your brake lining.

Instead of rivets, a strip of the PERMAFUSE Bonding Tape is clamped between the brake shoe and the brake lining and heated in our electric bonding oven until they are virtually fused together. Remember PERMAFUSE for Longer Lasting Brakes.
